Dig In! at National Farmers Union Youth Gathering 2008

The National Farmers Union Youth started the Dig In! project with CBA and Check Your Head. At the NFU Youth Gathering in June at the Town Hall in Laird, Saskatchewan we shared information and ideas about Food Sovereignty and tried out some fun popular education activities. After a whole lot of work, we filled "The Sticky Wall" with the concerns and ideas of young farmers. Together we took the first step to developing a great workshop on Food Sovereignty.

Thank everyone and thank to Colleen Ross and Annette Desmarais for sharing their knowledge of the international peasant movement La Via Campesina and the origins of the concept of Food Sovereignty.
